BLOWN TO FRAGMENTS!

Terrific Explosion in a Flouring Mill at Litchfield, Ill.

The Miller Killed and Several Other Employes Injured—The Loss Over $1,000,000.

LITCHFIELD, Ill., March 21.—At half o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the big Keeler flouring mill, at this place, and despite the efforts of the employes it quickly spread throughout the building. In less than twenty minutes the flames were beyond control.

While the employes and firemen were fighting the flames a terrific explosion, caused by flour dust, occurred and the immense structure was blown to fragments. John Cowie, head miller, wright, residence at Waterloo, N. Y., was instantly killed and several employes were seriously injured.

The explosion wrecked nearly every business place in the village. Many persons were badly hurt by flying bricks and falling timbers. The damage to the mill alone will reach $1,000,000, and other property was damaged over $150,000.

The shock was felt in the adjoining villages of Clyde, Butler, Gillespie and Pitsboro. In many of these places the concussion was so great that plate glass windows were broken. When the fire started the citizens of this town were awakened by the ringing of bells, and before many of them could dress they were stunned by the terrific shock of the explosion and the next minute found the walls of their homes falling in on them. It is not yet known how the fire originated.

Those already known to be badly injured by flying glass and timbers are Mrs R. Eichoride, Mrs P. Lynch, John Donohue, Joseph Neuther and John Kaycney. Their injuries are severe, but will not prove fatal. The fire was discovered by the night watchman in the bran room of the flour mill. He ran to a hydrant, but the water pipes did not work properly, and in an instant the flames spread to adjoining rooms. In less than two minutes the flames reached the flour rolling room and an explosion of flour dust followed. The night watchman was hurled through a window and badly injured. Millwright John Cowie was stunned by the shock and unable to escape. He was burned to death.

The immense building tottered for a second and fell in a heap of blazing timbers. The flames leaped across a small passageway and ignited two large grain elevators. In the elevators were stored 20,000 bs. rels of flour and 200,000 bushels of wheat. The firemen were driven back by the intense heat, and in less than half an hour the elevators and their contents were burned. The shock of the explosion was heard twenty-five miles away, and window glass was broken and chimneys blown down in towns ten miles distant. Nearly every house in a radius of two blocks from the mill was badly wrecked. All the plate glass in the stores on Main and State street were blown out. The flour mills and elevators were owned by Kohler Bros., of St. Louis, and their loss is estimated at $900,000. This is partially covered by insurance. About forty small dwelling houses were wrecked and many others slightly damaged. The Wabash railway tracks run between the flour mill and elevators and are covered with debris for a distance of 300 feet. The company will only suffer slight inconvenience as they will use tracks of other roads at this point.

KAIULANI'S FAREWELL.

To the American People Before Her Departure for England.

NEW YORK, March 21.—"Princess" Victoria Kaiulani has promulgated her farewell address to the American people. It reads as follows:

TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE:

Before I leave this land I want to thank all those whose kindness has made my visit such a happy one. Not only the hundreds of hands I have clasped, nor the kind smiles I have seen, but the written words of sympathy they have sent to me from so many homes have made me feel that whatever happens to me I shall never be a stranger to you again. It was to the American people I spoke and they heard me as I knew they would; and now, God bless you for it, from the beautiful home where your fair first lady reigns to the dear crippled boy who sent me his loving letter and prayer. KAIULANI.

The princess will sail for England today.

WOMAN BURNED.

The House Takes Fire at Night and She Perishes.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 21.—A two story brick house, No. 204 Lovering avenue, was destroyed by fire about 1 o'clock this morning and Mrs. Rebecca Mulholland, a widow aged fifty-five years, who lived alone in the house, was burned to death. The origin of the fire is not known.

American Express.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 21.—The American Express company has secured exclusive rights over the Illinois Central railroad from Chicago to New Orleans replacing the Southern Express company from Cairo southward and will assume control on April 1. The reason given for the change is the dissatisfaction over the transfer of express matter between the American and Southern companies at Cairo.

Big Cracking.

REGARDING COMMERCE.

Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom Meet.

England and Canada Scheming for Mutual Benefits—A Reciprocity Measure Recommended.

LONDON, March 21.—The thirty-third annual meeting of the Association of the Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom was held here today. One of the most important subjects is that relating to the British trade relations with Canada. Upon this question the Birmingham chamber of commerce introduced the following resolution: That as in the opinion of the meeting the future prosperity of British commerce increasing must depend on our commercial relations with our colonies, and recognizing the fact that Canada has by the resolution of her parliament invited the mother country to enter into an arrangement for reciprocal preferential duties, we hereby urge upon the government the necessity of taking that invitation into their immediately and serious consideration." The resolution of the Canadian parliament was as follows: "That if, and when the parliament of Great Britain and Ireland admits Canadian products to the markets of the United Kingdom on more favorable terms than it accords to the products of foreign countries, the parliament of Canada will be prepared to accord corresponding advantage by a substantial reduction in the duties which it imposes upon British manufactured goods." The Middlesborough chamber of commerce moved a resolution urging upon the government the necessity of taking the Canadian invitation into their immediate serious consideration. After considerable discussion the resolution for preferential duties in favor of Canada was rejected.

A TEMPERANCE MOVE.

Thirty Saloon Keepers Placed in Jail.

The Kansas Governor Enforces a Prohibition Law Which Has Been a "Dead Letter."

FORT SCOTT, Kas., March 21.—Great excitement was created here this morning when it was learned that during last night Governor Lewelling had commissioned J. I. Sheppard, of this city, to arrest all violators of the prohibition laws, and by 6 o'clock this morning thirty saloonkeepers were behind the bars of the county jail. The men are arrested on counts ranging in number from ten to thirty-five and if the minimum penalty is applied for each count it will require a small fortune for each man to obtain his liberty. It is a move induced by the temperance people of Fort Scott to suppress the sale of liquor, which has been legalized by the municipal authorities, notwithstanding the prohibitive law, for the past month.

WHITE LEAD.

A New Company Formed for Its Manufacture.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Capital has just been subscribed in this city to start a new factory to compete with the White Lead trust. New York and Chicago capitalists have put in several hundred thousand dollars. The new works, it is said will be built on Newark Meadows. The new enterprise will have a capacity greater than that of any property in the trust. It has developed that one director of the trust, Simeon Reynor, of Pittsburg, has already identified himself with the opposition.

President Thompson, of the National Lead company, denies that there is any disagreement in the board of directors. Simeon Reynor, of Pittsburg, resigned from the board on the first of the year. It was tendered by Mr. Reynor in order that he might make way for a younger and more active man. His relations towards the National Lead company are most friendly.

TWO DRAWS.

The McGee-McCarthy and the Siddons-Dixon Fights.

NEW YORK, March 21.—There was a small crowd at the Coney Island Athletic club house last night to see the McGee-McCarthy and Siddons-Dixon fights. Lively work was done in both. Jack McGee, of Boston, and Billy McCarthy, of Australia, opened the ball with a ten round bout, which was fought to a draw. Then George Siddons and George Dixon made their appearance and fought for twelve rounds when it was declared a draw.

MEXICANIZED.

The Monument No Longer an Honor to the Old Soldier.

Plot U. A. R. Posts Opposed to Holding the National Encampment in Indiana This Year.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 21.—The opposition among the local members of Grand Army posts to the holding of the national encampment in this city, has taken definite shape in a movement to adopt resolutions at the state encampment declaring that the veterans of Indiana deem it inexpedient for the national encampment to be held in Indiana this year. For a month past the matter has been quietly canvassed in the several posts of this city, and in one having 300 members, a vote was taken, and it was unanimous in the opposition to the holding of the national encampment here.

The state encampment meets at Evansville in April, and it is proposed to draft resolutions reciting the fact that the monument committee has Mexicanized the soldiers' and sailors' monument, that it is no longer a monument of honor to honor the heroes of the late war, and that it is the sentiment of the posts that the Grand Army, as an organization, should not participate in the dedicatory exercises. It is mainly on account of the monument that the Indiana posts desired the national encampment to meet here. The resolutions will ask the council of the administration to fix the meeting at somanother place. The opposition to the special tax in this city is also having its effect in determining such action. The city council last night passed the ordinance by a vote of fifteen to six appropriating $75,000 in aid of the national encampment of the G. A. R.

IN BEHRING SEA.

Will Make a Bold Raid on the Seal Rookeries.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 21.—Advices just received from Behring Sea show that the steamer Alexander, which left here early in this year, is already in the forbidden waters, and that as soon as this season opens she will make a bold raid on the seal rookeries.

The Alaska Commercial company's supply schooner Dora arrived late yesterday afternoon from a cruise extending as far north as Ounalaska. Natives on the shores of Yakutat Pass, the main entrance to the Behring Sea report that on February 26 or 27 a three-masted painted black vessel steamed into the sea. Their description made it clear that the vessel was the Alexander. This steamer cleared from San Francisco for Hakodate, Japan, January 25.

She carried a full sealing outfit, including a large quantity of salt. In her hold was an unusually large supply of cheap liquors and another suspicious circumstance was that she carried a crew of eighty men. At the last moment several cases of Winchesters and cartridges were secretly put aboard. It is believed here that the Alexander will trade liquor for skins along the shores of Behring sea and before a patrol fleet starts north she will make a dash for the rookeries, overpower the small guard on the islands and then slip south with a full cargo of skins. The character of the crew and the nature of the outfit leaves no doubt that her mission is unlawful.

A MOTHER'S VOW

Will Go to the Death Chamber and See Her Son Electrocuted.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Mrs. Harris, mother of Carlyle W. Harris, in an interview last night, said that her son had begged her not to hold a mass meeting and in deference to his wishes the project had been abandoned. She said that the petition sent out would contain a digest of all the new evidence.

"If Carl is executed," she said, with tragic energy, "I shall stand in the death chamber by the chair with Juror Mason's affidavit in my hand and see my boy murdered. I'll have the affidavit buried with him in the coffin."

Mrs. Harris said that District Attorney Nicoll had told Mr Howe that he would not allow her in the court room yesterday. She believed he feared a popular uprising in Harris' behalf.

MILLIONAIRE MACKAY

Growing Worse, and His Condition Said to be Dangerous.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 21.—Millionaire John W. Mackay has had a change for the worse, and is said to be in a dangerous condition. Something has lodged in the vermiform appendix and peritonitis has set in. An operation is necessary, and this, in Mr Mackay's weakened condition, will be very dangerous. He was delirious Sunday night and was under the influence of opiates, but yesterday was a little better. He knows his condition and has cabled his wife and son. The latter leaves Liverpool today.

Are in Jeopardy.

Dr Keeney, after his visit at 9 o'clock this morning said that the crisis had passed and that the condition of his patient showed a continued improvement.

QUEEN VICTORIA

Leaves for Florence to Spend the Spring Season.

LONDON, March 21.—Queen Victoria started for Dartmouth at 9:30 this morning on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert on her way to Italy, where she will spend the spring season at the Villa Palmieri, near Florence. Large crowds assembled to witness the departure of her majesty, who was heartily cheered as she went on board. The shipping in the harbor displayed flags, and the sailors cheered the Victoria and Albert, as the royal yacht passed out to sea, escorted by the British cruiser Inconstantine and the gun boat Seagull. The sun shone brightly, and everybody said it was "Queens weather."

ROME'S BOMBS.

Supposed Anarchists Make Another Attempt

To Destroy Life and Property at the Residence of the Grand Marshal of the Papal Court.

ROME, March 21.—Another bomb explosion occurred in this city last night, being the second explosion in less than a week, the first having occurred on Friday last at the Anchemi Mattei palace, the residence of Hon. Albert G. Porter, the United States minister.

Last night's outrage was perpetrated at the residence of the Marquis Sacchetti, grand marshal of the Papal court, and has caused a feeling of great anxiety in various circles in view of the fact that the efforts of the dynamiters seem in a measure to be directed against the attaches of the popo's court.

On Saturday morning last an attempt was made to blow up with a bomb the Palazzo Altieri, the headquarters of the Papal guardia nobili, but was fortunately frustrated by a boy, who discovered the bomb, with burning fuse attached.

The boldness of the authors of these outrages is evidenced by the fact that the Palazzo Altieri is situated close to the Via Nazionale, one of the principal streets of the city, along which people are constantly passing. The bomb which exploded last night had been within the entrance of the Marquis Sacchetti's residence and the noise of the explosion was heard for a great distance. Fortunately the only material damage was the smashing of many windows of the palace, though the walls in some places bore traces of the explosion. This affair caused the police to be more than usually vigilant, and during the night another bomb was found on the staircase of a house in the Via Dello Quattro Fontane.

A lighted fuse was attached to this bomb, and it was discovered just in time to prevent an explosion. The police have no clue to the authors of the outrages, though they firmly believe that they are anarchists who are trying to intimidate the authorities and thus prevent the punishment of a number of their friends who were recently arrested. This theory is not generally accepted, however, as the outrages have been directed as much against the vatican officers as against the government.

CANAL PROJECTS.

Canada Discussing Improvements in Her Waterways.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 21.—In the house of commons yesterday, Mr Tilden introduced the following motion: That in view of the early completion of the canal around St. Mary's rapids, upon the Canadian shore and of the enlargement and increased depth of our canal system to the Atlantic seaboard, and also of the ever increasing volumes of traffic tending in that direction, it is desirable that Canada should have a complete and uninterrupted waterway from the head of Lake Superior to the Atlantic ocean through her own territory; that in the furtherance of such an object the minister of railways and canals should with all reasonable despatch proceed to have explorations and surveys made to ascertain the most direct and feasible manner of connection of Lake St Clair by a canal with Lake Erie, through Canadian territory, and report upon the same with an approximate estimate of the cost thereof to the house." Speaking of his motion, he severely criticised the diplomatic course pursued by the United States towards Canada ever since the war of 1812 and condemned the whole course of diplomatic action of the United States. No action was taken on the motion.

DRIVEN INSANE.

A Toledo Man Grieves Over the Loss of His Horses.

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 21.—Joseph Flynn, who owned the two buildings that were crushed to the earth last night by the falling of the walls of the Wheeler opera house, that had been standing since the late fire, became insane this morning on account of the loss of the buildings, as he had not a cent of insurance on them. He raved and became so violent that he was placed in the padded cell in the police station.

Arbitrator Morgan.

LONDON, March 21.—In an interview today United States Senator John T. Morgan stated that he had recovered from his recent sickness and that he would start for Paris today. Senator Morgan it will be recalled was a passenger on the American line steamer New York, which arrived at Southampton on March 9 on her first voyage in that port, on the passage Senator Morgan was thrown from his berth, sustaining injuries which resulted in an attack of erysipelas from which he has now entirely recovered. He is one of the arbitrators in the present United States board in the Behring sea matter, and he goes to Paris to take part in the deliberations of the court of arbitration.

AGAINST NEPOTISM.

President Cleveland Expresses Emphatic Views Thereon.

He Refuses to Appoint a Relative in Office—Other Matters of Interest to the Public.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—President Cleveland defined his position on matters today, in a manner so forcible that he left no doubt in the minds of his hearers that he was irrevocably opposed to the practice.

The gentleman to whom Mr. Cleveland outlined his views on the question is a western congressman who came to secure the appointment of a constituent to office. He told Mr. Cleveland that the applicant was a good democrat, a good fellow, and, furthermore, a relative of the president himself.

"That settles it," Mr. Cleveland is reported as saying. "His name cannot be considered."

And then the president is said to have read the congressman a lecture on the danger of appointing relatives to office, in which he placed himself on record as against nepotism in all its shades of meaning and application.

Congressman Springer learned something more about the new rules for appointment this morning from Mr. Cleveland about the application of a former office holder for reappointment to the postmastership at Petersburg, Ill., and after explaining the fact in the case received an answer favorable to the applicant. The explanation was this:

The candidate in question is a woman and a democrat who was appointed post master at Petersburg by President Arthur just prior to Mr. Cleveland's first term. She was reappointed by Mr. Cleveland after General Harrison's election, but the republican senate refused to confirm the nomination, and a republican, of Mr. Harrison's selection secured the place. President Cleveland, in his interview with Mr. Springer this morning, after hearing this statement of the case with the additional information that the applicant is almost unanimously endorsed, gave Mr. Springer to understand that he would reappoint the lady. Mr. Cleveland has made several like statements in connection with similar cases to other congressmen, and his language on these occasions and this morning indicates that former appointees who were prevented from serving their terms through lack of confirmation by the senate will be given preference in applications for the offices for which they were selected under Mr. Cleveland's first incumbency.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Secretary Carlisle has issued a circular in regard to the importation of animals for breeding purposes, which modifies the existing regulations by making them in some respects less stringent. The previous requirement of "four top crosses" is reduced to "three top crosses." Whenever the required certificates cannot be furnished at the time of arrival of the animals and the collector is satisfied from other evidence that the animals would be entitled to free entry, they may be so admitted on bond for the production of the required certificate. A new list of recognized registries has been promulgated for the guidance of collectors of customs. During the balance of the present month the commissions of the collectors of customs at the following ports will expire: Grand Haven, Mich., March 29, ($1,000 and fees). St. Paul, Minn., March 25, ($2,000). Fort Benton, Mont., March 25, ($1,000). Appraisorships will also fall vacant by expiration of commissions at Philadelphia, Pa., March 23, salary, $3,000, and at Portland, Oregon, March 24, salary, $3,000.

ELEVEN MEN

Under Indictment for Hanging an Innocent Man.

OWENSBORO, Ky., March 21.—Eleven well-known farmers of Perry and Crawford counties, Ind., are under indictment charged with the murder of John Davidson, a well known farmer of Crawford county. Six years ago these men were members of a gang of White Caps who terrorized this region for many years. John Davidson was suspected of complicity in the abduction of Annie Hannegin, and he was subjected to horrible tortures to extort a confession.

Failing to extort any confession from him these savages hung him from a limb of a small tree. It was soon proved that Mr Davidson had no knowledge of the alleged outrage of the girl, but the members of the White Cap band were so well kept that no direct evidence against them could be presented in court. One of the leaders of the gang, named Otto Pestenberg, was convicted upon another charge at the last term of court at Cannelton and sentenced to a long term in the penitentiary, and another turned state's evidence, which led to the indictment of these eleven members of the gang. They have paid a lot of lawyers at Cannelton $4,000 to defend them.

PINTA AND NINA.

The Columbus Caravels Parade in America.

HAVANA, March 21.—The two Columbus caravels, the Pinta and Nina, arrived here today under the escort of the two United States war ships, Newark and Bennington, on their way to take part in the great Columbian naval review at New York.

Tomorrow is Remnant Day at Louis Wolf & Co.'s.

THE COUNCIL'S VOTE.

City Fathers Interviewed on the High License Question.

Probable Fate of the Resolution Introduced at the Last Meeting—For and Against.

At the last regular meeting of the city council a resolution was presented relative to raising the license of saloon keepers from $50 to $500 per year. The resolution was signed by Councilmen McClelland, Pettit and DeVilliss, and asked that the city attorney be instructed to draw up an ordinance with the end in view of increasing the city license. The resolution was referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinance, consisting of Messrs. Hamus, Hazard and Edgemann, and is to come up for action at the next meeting of the council on Tuesday, March 27.

In order to ascertain the opinion of the members of the city council upon the matter and forecast if possible, the disposition of this important resolution, a SENTINEL representative this morning interviewed members of that body with the following result. Each member was asked the question:

"Are you in favor of raising the license of saloons?"

Herman Michaels, sr., said: "I have not paid any attention to the matter. I have been too busy with the new city hall. I can't give you my opinion now." Mr. Michaels admitted that he had talked with a number of saloon keepers with regard to the matter and it seemed evident that he had a settled opinion.

Robert E. Hamus—"I prefer not to express my opinion outside of the committee room and must ask to reserve it for the regular meeting of the council." Later Mr. Hamus expressed himself as not being particularly pleased with the phraseology or the manner in which the resolution as presented was drawn.

H. P. Scherer—"I don't want to talk about the matter. You are two early. I am not in favor of raising the license—at least to the extent called for by the resolution. I prefer to reserve my opinion until later on."

William D. Moyers: "I don't believe in taxing somebody to pay somebody else's debts. It is taxing a few men too heavily in proportion to the majority. To raise the license will be to give a monopoly of the liquor business to two classes—the very rich and the very lowest dive keepers. The respectable middle class of liquor men will be shut out." Mr. Meyer sells liquor.

Philip Reinz: "I refuse to talk." Councilman Reinz talked just the same and said that he had been assessed and knew that many rich men violated their oath for the benefit of a few dollars and he, for one, didn't see why the saloon keepers should be taxed to death on this account. He wanted no higher license. Mr. Reinz is a South Lafayette street saloon keeper.

W. H. McClelland—"I am in favor of high license. I think it no more than fair that the saloon men be made to pay a proportionate more tax when their business creates more expenses upon the community. I have no especial hard feeling against these men and am willing to compromise. If the new charter provides for a $250 license I am willing to let matters stand as they are until the charter takes effect."

Paul E. Wolf—"I am in favor of high license. In every county the liquor men are expected to pay a special tax on account of the profits of their business and I see no reason why Fort Wayne saloon keepers should not be taxed to the limit asked for. The license as it is now is far too low."

Peter J. Schield—"I have always stood for high license, and, although I am not arbitrary, I think the saloon men do not pay enough. I haven't much use for these saloons in the rear of groceries. They ought to be wiped out. Men who have growing families should do what they can to lessen the saloon evil."

William L. Pettit—"I am in favor of high license on moral grounds and also for revenue. We need more money for city government and I think the saloon men should contribute more liberally. Why, over in the little town of Monroeville they tax their saloon keepers $150. We only $50! Don't that seem ridiculously small for a city the size of Fort Wayne?"

T. D. DeVilliss—"Can't make the license too high for me. It is an outrage to think of the paltry sum we collect from the saloon men. We want more revenue from these men who reap such a harvest from the laboring classes and cause additional expense for city government by way of police etc. Emphatically yes, give us higher license."

Peter Engemann—"I haven't formed a decisive opinion as yet, and prefer not to say anything at present on the subject. I will not express an opinion for publication until the matter comes up in the council and then my vote will show my position on the resolution."

B. W. Skelton—"I am as much an oyster on the question. My opinion will be expressed at council meeting and not before."

William Meyer, jr.—"Say for me that I am non-committal and now. Must reserve my opinion for the vote."

Charles Buch—"I will not express any opinion outside of the council room."

F. C. Meyer—"If high license would bring an increase in income to the city I would cheerfully vote for it, but I fear by the movement we would wipe out the little fellows and thereby give a monopoly to a few of the very wealthiest men in the city. There are hundreds of [illegible] who would be [illegible] by the proposed license. I am in favor of a high license if it would not have the effect mentioned."

Maurice Cody—"I cannot give my opinion upon the matter until the committee having charge of the resolution makes their report. I'll make down as non-committal."

Of the other three members whom the reporter was unable to see it is known that Col. C. B. Oakley is in favor of high license; Louis Hazard non-committal or no advance in the present license, and Councilman Keller non-committal with a possibility of being in favor of an advance in the license.

IN LEGAL CIRCLES.

News as Found Around the Court House and Justice Offices.

Jay P. Dously and Martha Wells have been licensed to wed.

The circuit court adjourned this morning until tomorrow, on account of Judge O'Rourke being a pall bearer at the Storey funeral.

Constable Skolley went out to Jefferson township this morning to arrest Reitel for drunkenness and abuse of his wife. The warrant was sworn out in Justice Wilkinson's court.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

County Recorder Geo. Eckel has recorded the following transfers of real estate:

S. L. Morris, as commissioner, to the Church of Christ lot 2, G. W. Ewing's addition for $4,000. A. Daugherty et. al. to Ulysses S. Daugherty lots 20 to 22, Beck's first addition, for $1,000. Fred Woehnker to William C. Woehnker lot 72, Hamus's addition, for $1,000. Edmund W. Keller to Edmund Wickliffe lot 76, Fletcher's addition, for $1,000; George W. Pall to Charles Fletcher lots 50 and 51, Electric Light addition, for $650. Land and Improvement company to Ira H. Burger lot 188, Lakeside, for $900.

SUITS SETTLED.

A petition was yesterday presented to the board of commissioners asking that they increase the salaries of Judge O'Rourke and Judge Dawson from $2,500 to $4,000 in accordance with the act of the last legislature authorizing such action. The petition is signed by many of the taxpayers in the city.

WITHDRAWN WITH CASH.

Judge Stephenson, of the Hamilton county circuit court, Saturday overruled the motion for a new trial of the McDonald will case. The judge held that there did not appear to be any sufficient error to justify a new trial. In overruling the motion he gave the defendants 120 days in which to file a bill of exceptions. There was a discussion as to the proper decree to be rendered by the court. The plaintiffs contended that the decree should revoke and set aside the contested will; the defendants, that it should go further and admit to probate what was alleged to be the genuine will of Mr. McDonald. The questions were taken under advisement by Judge Stephenson until Saturday, March 24.

NEW U. S. COURT OFFICERS.

The following personal sketches are given of the new men whom President Cleveland has appointed as United States marshal and district attorney for the district of Indiana: Mr. Hawkins, the new United States marshal, lives at Sullivan, Sullivan county. This is his first appearance in state politics. He has been sheriff of his county, and he has the reputation of getting in politics "anything he goes after." About the middle of the last legislative session he appeared in Indianapolis, and it was quietly given out that he was the coming marshal. Up to the time of the mention of his candidacy nothing had been known of him. Si Sheerin was his friend, however, and a host of politicians came to his support. He is a man of small stature and nervous temperament. His success is largely due to his superior social abilities, which are said to be of a high order.

Frank P. Burke, the appointee for United States district attorney, has been practicing law at Jeffersonville. He was a member of the state senate in 1879 and 1881, and has been active in state politics and in the lobby ever since he entered the legislature. While a member of the state senate he made himself unpopular with the organized laboring men of the state, by opposing the enactment of an employes' liability act. The "blue book," prepared by the executive committee of the unions of the state, was largely directed against him, and the laboring men have claimed that they made it impossible for him to return to the legislature.

UNDER WRAPS.

Justice Hyon sent three tramps to jail this morning. They were given twenty days each for vagrancy.

Justice Frank gave judgment in two civil cases this morning.

This morning Deputy Sheriff Melching arrested Spangler on the charge of rape. He was released on giving a bond of $1,000 for his appearance to answer to the charge in the circuit court.

The state is making a raid against all retail liquor dealers in Fort Wayne and Allen county who have failed to take out the proper state license, which necessitates the expenditure of $25.

CONTRACTOR ARRESTED.

Benjamin Carey Apprehended by a Kokomo Policeman.

He is Taken to That City at Into This Afternoon—Other Police Court News.

Yesterday afternoon there arrived in Fort Wayne a young man named Stanton, who came from Hartford City, Ind. He was on the look out for a contractor named Benjamin Carey, whom Stanton claimed had wronged his (Stanton's) sister-in-law, a Miss Carrie Perdue, who resides at Kokomo, Ind. Having located the gentleman on West Washington street, where he was at work upon a building Mr Stanton telegraphed to Policeman E. N. Tailor, of Kokomo, who came on the first train armed with a warrant for the arrest of Carey. The contractor was found this morning and taken to the police station by the city police. He was greatly chagrined at being taken into custody upon such a charge and made all kinds of promises to the Kokomo policeman and the irate brother-in-law if they would prevent his being locked up until train time. Policeman Tailor, however, informed Carey that he had often experienced trouble in keeping men on these charges, and he was locked up until noon, when he was taken south on the Wabash. The prisoner has been in the city several weeks. Miss Perdue's parents are highly respectable residents of Kokomo.

OFFICE POLICE NEWS.

A house of ill fame was raided at 2 o'clock this morning, opposite the Rich hotel. Three ladies and three men were run in. John Smith was again compelled to pay the fiddler.

Detective Horton, of the Nickel Plate, has succeeded in arresting Mr. and Mrs. George Quinn for robbing freight cars. They are to be tried today at Fostoria, Ohio.

Chief Arthur Arrives at Toledo to Attend the Contempt Trials—No Trouble in the Yards.

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 21.—There were no developments in the Ann Arbor strike this morning. Chief Arthur will arrive this afternoon to be present at the hearing in the United States court of the contempt cases of lake Shore engineers who were arrested for refusing to handle Ann Arbor freight. There has been no further trouble in the yards. Both sides are awaiting the result of this afternoon's proceedings.

GLORIOUS!

Working A. O. U. W. Excursion to Auburn Last Evening.

It was about 7:25 last evening when the special train over the Lake Shore railroad pulled out of the city loaded down with members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. The train was in charge of Yardmaster Charles Aiken, and after he had gone through the car he announced that he had punched just fifty-five tickets, nearly all of whom were members of No. 56. Their mission was to assist in the initiation of thirty-two candidates, who had made application for membership in Auburn lodge, No. 12, and to add a little for the benefit of No. 56. John W. Vordermark, who had previously been elected, was called to go along and be initiated with that fine class of candidates, who had been secured by State Organizer W. S. Harrison. It was fully 9 o'clock before the lodge was called to order, but by 11:45 the work was completed, save that of installing the new officers. Arrangements having been made with the ladies of the M. E. church to prepare a banquet for the visitors, a recess was taken at this hour and everybody in the hall, nearly 100, marched to the dining room underneath the church, where they sat down to tables filled with all the luxuries of the season. The ladies proved themselves equal to the occasion and all were served in a very short time. It was 1 o'clock when the lodge was again called to order. The officers were then installed, after which remarks were made by numerous members, principally visitors from surrounding towns. At about 2 o'clock the lodge adjourned and the visitors started on their homeward journey arriving here about 5 o'clock.

SOCIAL.

N. Coppner and S. E. Houck acted as presiding officers.

Auburn lodge will organize a degree of honor on a short time.

C. F. Hinber suffered from a sore foot, but seemed to enjoy the trip.

John Koch, with his imitation of a fiddle kept the excursionists looking for frog ponds all along the line.

About the only interruption of the initiatory exercises was when Frank Purcell fell asleep and started his snoring bass saw.

Both going and coming the excursionists were given passes on the train and they proceeded to enjoy themselves in various ways.

GENTLE spring is here. This is the first day of the season.

THE public library question has assumed a favorable shape, and the petition for it is being numerously signed.

WASHINGTON is disposed to go ahead with the May city election, in the face of the McHugh bill, and then appeal to the courts.

An evening journal will soon be started at Princeton, called the News, with James McCormick editor and business manager.

From the interviews with councilmen published in today's SENTINEL it is impossible to forecast the vote on the increased saloon license question, as several of the members refuse to express an opinion.

CHICAGO is looking for a golden harvest from the exposition. Three million visitors at $5 a day for food and lodging for six months, $120,000,000, street car fares, $5,000,000 entrance fees, $18,000,000, other expenditures will run the total up to $200,000,000.

CONGRESSMAN BURROWS, of Michigan, who introduced a resolution for an investigation of the whisky trust, makes serious charges against that organization, alleging, among other things, extensive and injurious adulterations. He says, "From the same vat of spirits can be produced whisky of any age, rum from Jamaica, or any other place on the globe, brandy from the most celebrated districts of France, and the most approved after-dinner cordials, together with gin that would deceive the most educated taste. Any and all of these can be produced from a few sacs of coloring matter and a few vials of drugs, upon the labels of some of which appear the skull and cross bones as a warning to the user."

A Needed Amendment.

The introduction into the senate of the United States, by Senator Sherman, of a proposed amendment to the constitution, fixing April 30 as the date upon which the term of office of the president and members of congress shall begin, has caused considerable discussion and many newspapers are now in favor of making January 1st as the day on which congress and the president shall take their seats.

There can be no doubt that the framers of the constitution, in fixing the first Monday in December as the time for the meeting of congress, expected that the elections would be held in the autumn immediately preceding. It happened, in getting the machinery of the constitution started that the new government could not be organized until spring and then an accidental date was fixed from which the terms of four years and four years have since been counted. The constitution does not fix this date, but it does fix the length of the term, which cannot be even temporarily extended or curtailed, as would be required to change the date, without the formality of an amendment.

The difficulty of communication that caused so much delay a century ago do not exist now. A newly-elected congress, and a new president also, might just as well come into office on the first of January as on the fourth of March. It could then get immediately to work under its instructions, instead of waiting as at now, an entire year, and allowing a morally defunct congress to do any amount of mischief in the meanwhile.

This is the reform that is really needed. The necessity was never more imperatively shown than this year, and if Senator Sherman or any man of similar authority in either house will only take it up earnestly he could carry a constitutional amendment to this effect that would be promptly ratified by the states.

Prison Reform.

In writing on the subject of prison reform in the various states throughout the union Samuel J. Barrows in an article in the New England Magazine gives utterance to some very truthful and pointed remarks. He says:

In every state in the union, the leaders in prison reform are obliged to go to the legislature again and again with fervent appeals repeated and prolonged, sometimes for a number of years to secure measures and reforms which to students of the subject are necessary and urgent. The prison reformer of today is not a mere sentimentalist. He must be a student of the social and moral problems which enter into the large and difficult subject of crime and its treatment. How complex and mysterious many of these elements are, only those who have attempted to grasp them can understand. Indeed, on many of the questions involved in this subject no one can be dogmatic. We must wait for further light and experience. If there be some disadvantage in the contradictions of the criminal codes of the different states, and the prison system attached to them, there is some advantage in the fact that different states are making different experiments along different lines concerning the reduction of crime and the treatment of the criminal. If there is a wide diversity of practice in prison administration in the different states, it may be said that prison reformers have come to a general and even warm and positive agreement concerning the fundamental principles of prison reform. These principles may be briefly stated as, first, the protection of society, and second, the reformation of the prisoner. As to how these principles are to be applied and these ends attained, prison authorities differ but that these are the ends to be worked for, they earnestly agree."

Much grumbling is heard over two continents about the inability of many world-le exhibitors to secure enough space at the Columbian exposition. From some of the requests that have been rejected it would appear that the idea has gone forth that the whole city of Chicago, perhaps the entire state of Illinois, were included in the fair grounds. Most of the disappointed applicants would have displayed something well worth seeing, but the great show will not seem smaller without them; enough will be seen to occupy all the time anyone can give to it, and all visitors, on departing, will wish their days and dollars had been many times as numerous.

[illegible]

In attempting to introduce the crinoline fad into the rural districts of Dalton, Tenn., a lady follower of the fashions scored a fight in the church on a recent Sunday. In entering the church the rambunctious skirts brushed against several persons and one man made a remark which insulted the lady, who informed her husband. A fight ensued, the relatives and friends of both parties engaging in the battle. Women fainted, children screamed and pandemonium reigned supreme. Many emerged with broken and bleeding heads, vowing vengeance. Several of the parties are gunning for each other and the crinoline fad is on the decline.

THE crusade against blasting seems to have subsided somewhat, but the practice has not. It must be apparent, however, to everybody that the custom ladies have of kissing each other is a very absurd one, and should the crusade accomplish an abatement of it the movement will not have lived in vain. The number of ladies who kiss and dislike each other would be startling if made known.

A SAN FRANCISCO California paper rounds out a birth notice as follows: "The child is the first Dutch infant born in the San Luis valley. The notice is written by a Dane, put in type by a Mormon, the proof is read by an American, the type placed in the form by a German and the paper is printed by a Mexican. This affords an interesting medley of the composite character of the great American people of the far southwest."

A NEW YORK morning paper complains that there is something wrong in a section which does not permit a lawyer under appropriate circumstances to express or intimate the same time the profound respect for the court as such, and the utmost contempt for the presiding judge as an individual, and to do this without subjecting himself to punishment. A great many sharp lawyers are of the same opinion.

THE railroad mileage of Connecticut is greater according to area than any country of Europe except Belgium. Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania have each of them larger relative mileage than Germany, France or Holland and each of the states except Iowa and New York has a larger relative mileage than Great Britain.

WONDERFUL TALES

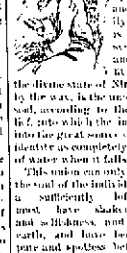
OF SELF-INFLICTION BY RELIGIOUS FANATICS

Last Indian Ignorance and Superstition as Referred by a Religious Sect—The System of Yoogs as it is Called by Devotees

(Boston Herald, February 26.)



HERE is a strange order of priesthood. Allow religious ecstasy in the most rigorous self-denial and mortifications. This is known as the section of Yogis, and is supposed to [illegible] decisions for the divine state of Nirvana. Nirvana, by the way, is the union of the human soul, according to the Buddhistic belief, into which the individual merges into the great source of life, losing his identity as completely as does a drop of water when it falls into the ocean.

This union can only take place when the soul of the individual has reached a sufficiently lofty plane. It must have shaken off all sin and wickedness, and all the lusts of earth, and have become absolutely pure and spotless before it can enter into its state which, it would seem, is utter extinction so far as its individuality is concerned.

So the religions of the Orient teach; and it is to it themselves for this high union that the system of Yoogs is carried out by many thousands of fanatics in India.

This system appears to be intended to destroy all thought, or to concentrate the mind with the utmost intensity on nothing in particular. It is a combination of unnatural restraints and postures, and taxings and contortions of the most painful description, together with fasting and all manner of bodily torture.

The Yogi, sometimes called fagiter or fakir, must dress only in rags sewed together by himself. He must eat only one meal a day, that at the forenoon. This he obtains by going from door to door and receiving contributions of food in a wooden box he carries for the purpose. For a part of the year he lives outside with no shelter but the trees, and only a piece of carpet on which to sit, for his religion will not permit him to lie down, even when sleeping.

These wretched beings seem to have only one creed—and that is to suffer. The torture they inflict upon themselves seems almost incredible, and the great wonder is how they are able to endure it and exist. A weak and starved Yogi will go through what would kill a civilized person in very short time.

I have heard of one of these ascetics who went into a trance still standing on his feet—and remained so long immovable that the large ants threw up a mound of dirt around him as high as his waist, while the birds actually built their nests in his long, clotted hair. I cannot vouch for this particular instance being true, but I know there are quite enough of strange, awful, and ridiculous self-inflictions to make me believe that "the revival of Jacobitism in England and Ireland." The first number has a broad black border, having been issued as "the memorial number of the anniversary of King Charles I." It declares that "the revival of Jacobitism in England, Scotland and Ireland, is a fact of the highest importance, and is rapidly gaining ground. Its principles are those of the original Jacobite Liberal party, namely, equal rights for all classes, the abolition of the House of Lords, and the disestablishment and disendowment of the Irish, Scotch and Welsh state churches, and the extension of the franchise to all men and women."

SITTING WITH FOUR HOT FIRES TO DRY.

How true this is I am unable to say, but I am inclined to believe there is an element of truth in it. They assert that their ability to endure fasting and torture is the result of supernatural power; but, however, this may be, their remarkable fortitude is something that one who has not seen it demonstrated will be unable to believe.

While one cannot help pitying these deluded mortals who seek religion in this way to punish themselves with such rigorous severity, there is something to be admired in the heroism they display in following out their beliefs. With them there is no shirking and no trying to evade what they consider the proper course for them to take. They are hardly do this with the hope of a future reward, for their heaven is a sort of negative state in which there is neither reward nor punishment. Their own individuality is not to be considered; their only object being to become a part of the great Oversoul or source of all life.

All the new philosophies of America and Europe, such as theosophy, mind cure, spiritualism, etc., have been prepared for thousands of years in India. This is the birthplace of all psychological and metaphysical research.

Oldest Piece of Iron.

The three oldest human pieces of wrought iron in existence are the sickle blade that was found by Belzoni under the base of a sphinx in Karnac, near Thebes; the blade found by Col. Vyse embedded in the mortar of one of the pyramids, and a portion of a crossent saw which Mr. Layard exhumed at Nimrod—all of which are now in the British Museum. Another piece of iron, an account of which might not be inappropriate in this connection, is the wrought bar of Damascus steel which King Porus presented to Alexander the Great. This bar, which is of unknown antiquity, is still carefully preserved in the National Turkish Museum at Constantinople.

Regiant of Jacobitism

The Jacobite is the name of a journal recently started in England and claiming to be "the organ of the legitimate Jacobite league of Great Britain and Ireland." The first number has a broad black border, having been issued as "the memorial number of the anniversary of King Charles I." It declares that "the revival of Jacobitism in England, Scotland and Ireland, is a fact of the highest importance, and is rapidly gaining ground. Its principles are those of the original Jacobite Liberal party, namely, equal rights for all classes, the abolition of the House of Lords, and the disestablishment and disendowment of the Irish, Scotch and Welsh state churches, and the extension of the franchise to all men and women."

In the White House.

The oldest ornaments among the household goods of the White House are two bronze candelabra that stood on the ends of the mantel in the red parlor. They are six feet tall and were presented to President Jackson during his occupancy of the White House by Gen. Patterson.

The Name of Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania was founded by William Penn, and it was the only state named after its founder. The English "Pennsylvania" signifies "forest land," and is descriptive of the general character of the country. Three counties lying southeast of Pennsylvania were formerly territories of the state. In 1701 they were granted a charter, and named Delaware, after Lord De La Ware, who first explored the bay into which the river empties.

Balm of Gilead.

The real balm of Gilead is the dried juice of a low shrub which grows in Syria. It is very valuable and scarce, for the amount of balm yielded by one shrub never exceeds sixty drops a day. According to Josephus the balm or balsam of Gilead was one of the presents given by the queen of Sheba to King Solomon. The ancient Jewish physicians prescribed it evidently for dyspepsia.

CASUALTIES.

Alderman Emerson Fractures His Arm in Two Places—Narrow Escape of a Motorman.

Sunday evening about 8 o'clock a motorman on the belt line of the electric street railway met with a narrow escape from death. At the corner of Main street and Broadway a Main street car had broken the belt line trolly wire so it is supposed. The break was not noticed until a few moments later, when a belt line car came around the curve. The deadly wire was hanging down to within a few feet of the ground and directly in the center of the track. When the belt line car came in contact with the hanging trolly there was a brilliant flash. The motorman saved himself from instant death by a quick leap. The platform was soon on fire but the car was hushed and the passenger transferred to another car. Later the line repairing wagon was sent for and the damage repaired. It was a narrow escape for the motorman.

About the hour of 10 o'clock last evening Alderman Emerson, whose home is at No. 25 Elizabeth street, and who drives a beer wagon for the Centlivre company, met with a serious accident. He was handling a 250 pound barrel of beer when it slipped and fell, striking him on the right arm, causing a compound fracture of that member. Dr. Myers was called and made the injured man as comfortable as possible.

Last night Dr. Will Stemen was at Warsaw. About 10 o'clock, as he was going by the theater he was called in by an accident which had befallen one of the stage hands. A large fly wheel which was used to furnish power for a circular saw in a saw mill scene, burst and fractured the skull of the man who was turning it. Dr. Stemen dressed the wound, which is serious.

FALLING WALLS

Cause Much Damage to Adjoining Property.

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 21.—During a terrific gale about 7:30 last evening the wall of the Wheeler Opera house, standing since the fire of last Thursday night, was blown down, completely crushing the three story grocery house of Captain T. A fire immediately started in the destroyed building, caused by the explosion of coal oil, and the department had great difficulty in confining it, owing to the heavy wind prevailing. It is now definitely known that no one was injured in the collapse of the walls of the Wheeler Opera house. Three men were within when the walls fell, but all escaped.

OUR NEW LIBRARY.

Important Spring Bird Yesterday Afternoon to Start the Ball Rolling.

On yesterday afternoon a meeting of the executive committee of the Woman's Club League was held at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Myers. The members who had circulated among the prominent business firms the petition for a public library reported that they had met with gratifying encouragement. Not one person had refused to sign the petition. Some gentlemen had said, "It is too bad, ladies, that you have to take the time and trouble to get what is so evidently your right."

A copy of the petition has been given to each club and a district assigned to each. The petitions will be circulated among the citizens of Fort Wayne during the next two weeks.

Letters have been written to other cities in the state asking how their libraries were started and how they have since been maintained. Facts received in answer will be published that the Fort Wayne people may know what has been done in all parts of the state.

Any person who sympathizes with this work of the league and has any helpful fact or suggestion to offer for publication or otherwise is cordially invited to communicate the same to every member of the undersigned committee.
